Meeting Minutes - Client Meeting #12

What Was Discussed:

- An alternative design for the moving balls on the virtue ethics page
- Will still attempt to implement the original idea however, we discussed a backup plan
- Backup plan: have the balls as they are now (static) and on the side have a description telling the user they need to bring the balls to equilibrium to balance the soul and have a button that says "click to balance". Once it is clicked, the balls change to their balanced position in the circle.

Feedback/Questions/Concerns From Ruth:

- Thinks the alternative design for the balls works well
- Is putting together a google forms survey for her students to complete for feedback once we can make the site live.
 - If we have any questions we want her to include, we need to let her know
 - Ruth will send us the survey when she is done with it so we can take a look.
